DECLARATION OF DA OUYANG IN SUPPORT OF AMERICAREERS LLC'S MOTION FOR PARTIAL SUMMARY JUDGMENT

I, Da Ouyang, hereby declare and state that:

1. I am the President of AmeriCareers LLC d/b/a China Mart, LLC, the Defendant and Counterclaim Plaintiff (hereinafter "Defendant" or "China Mart, LLC") in the above-referenced case. I am over the age of 18, and I am competent to provide this declaration. I have personal knowledge of the facts set forth below. If called upon and sworn as a witness, I could and would competently testify as set forth below.

2. I am a Chinese American. While I am in the United States, I have used my English names Dan Ouyang and Daniel Ouyang.
3. I obtained both a Bachelor's degree and a Master's degree in China and a Ph.D. degree in the United States. I am competent to translate Chinese to English and English to Chinese.
4. Since 1999, I have run a business that provides job advertising and career related services. My company AmeriCareers LLC, formerly EduCareer.com LLC, was registered in Michigan in April 2000. The primary purpose of AmeriCareers LLC is to provide job advertising and career related services.
5. In addition to providing the services offered by my company, AmeriCareers LLC, I have had a longstanding interest in taking advantage of my knowledge and connections in both China and the United States by becoming involved in international trading between the two countries.
6. On December 26, 2007, I registered a new company "China Mart, LLC" in the state of Michigan. Although this new company does very different business from the career services, instead of registering "China Mart, LLC" as a completely separate business identity, I chose to register it as an assumed name under my company "AmeriCareers LLC" for convenience.
7. On December 25, 2007, I paid $5,000.00 USD to Mr. Gary Rohland to purchase "ChinaMart.com". The domain was transferred to me on January 2, 2008. Before, during and after the domain name was transferred, it has remained registered with the domain name registrar, GoDaddy.

8. Since the acquisition, it has been my intention to develop an online China trading center or shopping center for selling goods and products made in China on the “ChinaMart.com” website.
9. Since the acquisition, I have continued Mr. Rohland’s commercial use of “ChinaMart.com”, and have used it for advertising third party services related to Chinese business, China trading, and online shopping during 2008, 2009 and 2010.
10. Since late July 2010, my company website www.ChinaMart.com has been integrated with the world’s largest online retailer, Amazon.com, and has been used as Defendant’s online China trading and shopping center for selling goods available on Amazon.com, many of which are made in China.
11. I was not aware of the existence of the company “China Mart USA LLC”, the Plaintiff and Counterclaim-Defendant in the above-referenced case (hereinafter “Plaintiff” or “CMU”), or Plaintiff’s use of the term “China Mart” or “ChinaMart” until I received a letter from Plaintiff’s attorney in July 2010.
12. Prior to this lawsuit, I had not approached Plaintiff or made any attempt to sell the domain name “chinamart.com” to Plaintiff.
13. Nor have I ever approached any third party in an effort to sell the domain “chinamart.com” to them.
14. I have believed and continue to believe that the term “China Mart” (or “ChinaMart”) is generic or highly descriptive when used in connection with buying and selling goods.
15. On July 22, 2010, Defendant registered the mark “CHINAMART.COM THE SAVINGS CONTINUE” with the state of Michigan. I have used this phrase as a slogan to convey our message to customers that we are selling low cost goods.

16. The term “China Mart” can be translated into Chinese as “中国商贸城” (or “中国商城” in short).
17. I am not aware of any incidents of actual confusion raised between Plaintiff’s use of the term “China Mart” or “ChinaMart” and Defendant’s use of “ChinaMart.com” or its state registered trademark “CHINAMART.COM THE SAVINGS CONTINUE.”
18. After this lawsuit started, China Mart, LLC voluntarily added a disclaimer on every page of its website www.chinamart.com with a statement “China Mart LLC (or ChinaMart.com) is NOT affiliated in any way with CHINA MART USA LLC in LOS ANGELES.”
19. In searching for evidence for this case, I was not able to collect information related to the use of “chinamart.com” prior to the year 2005.
20. In searching for evidence for this case, I was unable to collect some information regarding third party’s prior uses of “China Mart”. I was also unable to locate some witnesses who may have information about their uses of the term “China Mart” prior to Plaintiff’s first alleged use of the term. Had Plaintiff brought this case sooner, I would be able to obtain some of those important information regarding third party’s prior uses and other information that would be helpful to support my case.
21. On or about August 22, 2013, I searched the domain WHOIS database from the domain registrar website GoGaddy.com and found that, as of August 22, 2013, the following domain names containing the term “China mart” or close variants were registered to third parties (i.e. not Plaintiff or Defendant).

Plaintiff has also used the same Chinese name “洛杉矶中国商贸城” (i.e. “China Mart Los Angeles”) as its official Chinese business name on its website www.chinamart.us (see Exhibit D-3 for Bates Nos. AMC000028 – AMC000035, attached to Defendant’s Brief in Support of Its Motion for Partial Summary Judgment). In addition, it shows that Plaintiff has used the registered sign (®) next to its Chinese name “洛杉矶中国商贸城”, a term that has not been registered with the U.S. PTO.

DomainSponsor Privacy Policy

Last Updated: August 15, 2013

As a user of this website and the webpages generated by DomainSponsor (collectively, the "Sites") and/or the services provided by DomainSponsor ("Services"), this Privacy Policy is intended to describe for you:

- the information we may collect about you,
- how that information may be used,
- with whom it may be shared, and
- your choices about such uses and disclosures.

We encourage you to read this Privacy Policy carefully before using the Site or Services or transacting business with us. If you have questions or concerns regarding this Privacy Policy, please contact us via email or mail using the contact information provided below.

Information Collection

We may collect personal information such as your name, mailing address, e-mail address and phone number, as well as other information. When you provide personal information through the Site, the information may be sent to our servers located in the United States and other countries around the world. We may collect and store any information that you enter into the Site or provide to us in some other manner.

Third Party List Information. We may also obtain both personal and non-personal information about you from third party data gathering sources. We may match this third-party collected information with the personal information that you provide to us.

Cookies, Web Beacons, and Other Information Collection Technology. We and our business partners, such as advertisers, may use various technologies to collect information from your computer and about your activities on the Site. For example, we and our business partners may collect and store non-personally identifying information through technologies such as cookies, log files, clear gifs (also known as web beacons), and other technologies to help determine user viewing preferences for advertising and other purposes.

- Log Files. Technical information from your browser may be automatically collected when you visit the Site. This information includes your IP address, your browser type, operating system, access times, the content of any undeleted cookies that your browser previously accepted from us (see "Cookies" below), and the referring website address.
- Cookies. A cookie is a piece of data stored on a user's browser that tracks non-personal information about the user. When using the Site, we may assign your computer one or more cookies which enable us to improve the quality of our Service, to customize your experience, and for other purposes. Cookies allow us to automatically collect information about your browser or device activity on the Site, such as the web pages you visit, the links or advertisements you click, or the other actions you conduct while using the Site. Most browsers automatically accept cookies, but you can usually modify your browser setting to disable cookies. If you choose to disable cookies, you will still be able to access the Site, but you may not be able to use all of the interactive features we offer. Additional information on cookies can be found at: <http://www.microsoft.com/info/cookies.htm>.
- Web Beacons. We, or our advertisers, may use standard Internet technology such as web beacons, clear gifs, pixels, and other similar technologies, to gather aggregate information about your browser or device activity on the Site. We also may include web beacons in promotional e-mail messages or newsletters to determine whether messages have been opened and acted upon. We use such web beacons to gauge the effectiveness of our marketing efforts and the quality of the Site, and for other purposes.

The DomainSponsor Terms of Service prohibit its users from violating the intellectual property rights of others, and also provide that the domain name owner is solely responsible for any alleged inappropriate conduct. Accordingly, if you have a claim regarding a domain name participating in the DomainSponsor system, we strongly encourage you to contact the domain name owner directly whenever possible.

Nevertheless, while we are not in a position to arbitrate trademark disputes between domain name owners and trademark owners, we have adopted this Trademark Dispute Policy as a courtesy to assist when a dispute arises.

It is our policy to immediately review complaints of alleged trademark infringement and to perform an investigation within two (2) business days. If our investigation determines that a domain name(s) participating in the DomainSponsor system potentially violates the intellectual property rights of the complainant, we will take down the domain name from the DomainSponsor system. In appropriate circumstances and at our sole discretion, we may terminate any owners or administrators who are deemed to be repeat infringers.

If you believe that your trademark has been violated, please submit a trademark dispute notice containing the information specified below. Because our actions may necessarily affect the rights of our customers, we will not investigate complaints that do not substantially comply with this notice requirement. Please note that you may be liable for damages (including costs and attorneys' fees) if you materially misrepresent that an activity is infringing your trademark.

1. Your name, address, telephone number, and email address;
2. A copy of your trademark registration, or list the trademark(s) at issue, the country/countries where registered, and the registration number(s);
3. The specific domain names at issue;
4. A statement by you that you have a good faith belief that the disputed use is not authorized by the trademark owner, its agent, or the law;
5. A statement by you, made under penalty of perjury, that the above information in your notice is accurate and that you are the trademark owner or authorized to act on the trademark owner's behalf;
6. Your signature

Please send your written notice of any trademark disputes to addresses specified below. While we accept communications by mail, we strongly encourage you to use electronic communications so that your communications can be properly logged and can be addressed more quickly.

China Direct Management Team Returns From Successful Mission To China

November 03, 2004 07:30 | Source: China Direct Trading Corp.

DAVIE, Fla., Nov. 3, 2004 (PRIMEZONE) -- China Direct Trading Corporation (OTCBB:CHDT) returned to the United States after a successful mission that accomplished five major business objectives in China.

First, China Direct established relationships with top central government ministerial officials in certain Chinese agencies, who have encouraged the company to establish a "China Mart" in South Florida, which would serve as a permanent showroom for exporters of merchandise from China. China Mart would facilitate imports by "bringing China to the United States" saving retail representatives the travel and time required to go to China to obtain products. The company has begun the process in China of securing all of the necessary licenses, permits and approvals to allow China Direct to open its first China Mart in the United States. It is expected that all approvals should be in order by the end of November, 2004. China Direct will then close a transaction on the site of the China Mart in Dade or Broward County.

China Direct also established relationships with exporters of furniture, diapers, and coke that should result in significant U.S. import transactions in the near future. While China Direct has focused to date on imports of souvenirs from China, the business plan of the company is to become a diversified trading company with a series of vertical entities in different consumer product sectors where demand for products exists in the United States and China.

Third, a series of new possible projects related to energy, real estate, and the Beijing 2008 Olympics were presented to the China Pathfinder Fund (CPF), a wholly-owned subsidiary of China Direct focused on business development in China. CPF will work on the energy sector in China, and has agreed to explore possible ventures and opportunities in Shangxi Province related to power plants, aluminum production, coal, and coke.

Fourth, an organization was put in place for China Direct to market souvenirs in China. As the market for tourism develops in China there will be a need for the marketing of quality souvenir products, particularly as part of the effort to promote the Beijing 2008 Olympics.

Fifth, the company has established business operations in China. One of the directors of the company, Cora Wong, will permanently move to Beijing. Management has agreed to return to China on a monthly basis, and more frequently, if needed, to supplement the efforts of Susan Xu, Director of China Operations for China Direct and her staff in Beijing, Shanghai, and Chengdu, which are the major commercial and trade regions of China.

BUSINESS: China Direct is a global trading company engaged in trade between the US and China.

FORWARD-LOOKING STATEMENTS: This press release includes "forward-looking statements" within the meaning of the federal securities laws. Although the Company believes that the assumptions upon which its forward-looking statements are based are reasonable, it can give no assurance that these assumptions will prove to be correct. Many factors are beyond the Company's and its subsidiaries' control. Important factors that could cause actual results to differ materially from the Company's projections and expectations are disclosed in the Company's existing and future filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission. All forward-looking statements in this press release are expressly qualified by such cautionary statements and by reference to the underlying assumptions as set forth above and as set forth in the Company's current and future filings with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission.

China Direct Trading Corp. to Open China Mart in South Florida

November 15, 2004 07:30 | Source: China Direct Trading Corp.

BEIJING, Nov. 15, 2004 (PRIMEZONE) -- China Direct Trading Corporation (OTCBB:CHDT) announced today that it has been approved by the China Ministry of Commerce (MOFCOM) to open and manage a China Mart in Dade or Broward County (South Florida) as a permanent showroom for the wares of Chinese manufacturers. Manufacturers will come to the U.S., man their showrooms, and sell their goods at overseas pricing.

China Mart will assist Chinese manufacturers by allowing U.S. retail purchasers to shop for the newest lines of Chinese products without having to attend expensive trade fairs in Hong Kong, Guangzhou, Shanghai, Beijing and other venues. China Mart will shorten the supply chain for U.S. retailers, and lower the cost of Chinese goods for U.S. consumers.

Large U.S. retailers and mass merchants have buyers that spend a great deal of time and effort to travel to China and within China and Hong Kong. China Mart will make it cheaper to acquire Chinese goods and is a logical step in the evolution of U.S.-Chinese commerce.

MOFCOM showed an interest in South Florida because of it's centralized location as the gateway for trade to the Caribbean and Latin America, and China Mart will permit Chinese manufacturers to expand export sales to those areas.

China Direct will manage the operation, arrange for rental space for Chinese manufacturers and exporters, and assist U.S. retailers in sourcing needs from the China Mart. The company will meet with local officials, the Hong Kong Trade council of Miami, and search for a venue in Dade or Broward counties. Follow up meetings have been scheduled in late November in China with MOFCOM to discuss progress and logistics and a MOFCOM delegation is considering a visit to South Florida once a site has been selected.

BUSINESS: CHDT is a global trading company engaged in product development, manufacturing, distribution, logistics and product placement into mass retail. The company holds patents and sells products to importers, theme parks and directs to retail worldwide. By establishing relationships with various governmental agencies, public and private institutions and private industries in China, the company aims to play a key role in assisting U.S. companies that desire to move production or investments into China as well as helping Chinese firms grow through U.S. distribution and financial support. In addition, the company acquires and invests in innovative products, services, or technology companies.

FORWARD-LOOKING STATEMENTS

This press release includes "forward-looking statements" within the meaning of the federal securities laws. Although CHDT (the "Company") believes that the assumptions upon which its forward-looking statements are based are reasonable, it can give no assurance that these assumptions will prove to be correct. Important factors that could cause actual results to differ materially from the Company's projections and expectations are disclosed in the Company's existing and future filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission. All forward-looking statements in this press release are expressly qualified by such cautionary statements and by reference to the underlying assumptions as set forth in the Company's public filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission and herein.

It's A Long Taxi Ride Home

January 10, 2005 | Jeff Zbar Special Correspondent and Joseph Mann Business Writer and Doreen Hemlock Business Writer

No, you're not seeing things: Those are London taxis hitting the streets of South Florida this week. The fleet of 10 vehicles is part of a $100,000, three-month marketing campaign by Boca Developers.

Sporting full-vehicle vinyl laminates of shoreline, high-rises and long-legged lassies, the erstwhile hackney carriages will serve as mobile billboards for the company's South Florida properties. The cabs will ply I-95, Las Olas Boulevard and Biscayne Boulevard. They'll also double as limousines for Boca Developers VIPs and will carry folks to high-profile to-dos, like parties, sporting events and real estate openings.

The taxis are owned by Clear Channel's media division, which acquired the fleet to serve as roving billboards, said Rick Barrow, partner with Barrow & Beber Silverstein, the Deerfield Beach-based developer's Miami ad shop.

"In a market that is difficult to make impressions, this is a way to stop traffic," he said. Want one of your own? Be prepared to drop about 25,500 (or $48,000 in greenbacks).

Calling for insurance after the loss

As part of a program to make consumers aware of insurance fraud, the Mayfield Village, Ohio-based Progressive group of insurance companies, one of the country's largest auto insurance suppliers, recently published outrageous examples of bogus auto insurance claims.

A common type of fraud is trying to buy auto insurance after an accident. Progressive reported one case where a motorcyclist crashed and, while lying on the side of the road with a ruptured spleen, called Progressive to ask for coverage. But the battered biker didn't realize that a passerby saw the accident, heard him make the phone call and later told the company.

In another case, a couple's car caught fire and, in the midst of the conflagration, the husband called the company to get coverage as soon as possible. The insurance company rep could hear the man's wife yelling in the background that the car was going to blow up.

12 companies signed up, still 88 to go

With China emerging as a key supplier for the Americas, several South Florida groups are pushing to develop a "China Mart" to showcase Chinese products for importers from the eastern United States, Latin America and the Caribbean.

Among the latest working to start a showroom: Davie-based China Direct Trading Corp., led by Howard Ullman and other trade veterans with experience arranging for U.S. companies to buy souvenirs, promotional items and other products from Chinese suppliers.

Ullman figures he needs about 100 Chinese companies for a China Mart to succeed.

So far, he's got more than a dozen firms lined up. Through his own visits to China and those of colleagues in his company's Beijing office, he hopes to find the rest to fill at least 50,000 square foot of showroom space and to launch the venture, as soon as this year.

He's eyeing spots in Broward and Miami-Dade counties, as are fellow groups pursuing the "China Mart" concept.

Hotel could boost Lambert air cargo effort

The Hilton Garden Inn, which had its grand opening Thursday, represents a key attraction in the effort to lure a cargo hub for China, area business leaders said.

Situated three miles east of Lambert-St. Louis International Airport at the North Park business center, the 136-room, $24-million hotel "is pretty integral to the whole development out here," said Bob O'Loughlin, chairman of the hotel's operator, Lodging Hospitality Management.

The hotel's owners include Paul McKee, an early backer of the air cargo effort, and Clayco Inc. Chairman Bob Clark.

The airport has the runway capacity and developable nearby land to accommodate air freight to and from China, Clark said.

"We're runway ready. We're land ready. We're hotel ready. We're ready to go."

McKee's son, Chris McKee, president of the family's McEagle Properties, said a special commission of area leaders will travel to China early next month to discuss the proposed Lambert hub with Chinese airline officials. He said the proposal "has a lot of traction in China."

Efforts are under way to raise money to build a $20 million to $30 million "China mart" near the hotel at North Park, McKee said. The facility would contain showrooms and numerous small offices that companies doing business with China would use to display products and discuss deals.

Work on the project could begin next year if developers can get funding from economic-development grants and other sources, including the government's stimulus package, McKee said.

O'Loughlin said the Hilton boosts the cargo hub proposal but would have been built regardless. Open a month, the hotel draws much of its business from nearby institutions including Express Scripts, the University of Missouri-St. Louis and Vatterott College. The hotel's occupancy rate, currently about 50 percent, should rise to 70 percent by June, O'Loughlin said.
